Meeting Dates:
The ISOO 2019 Program Committee is thrilled to welcome you to Los Angeles for a high level educational meeting filled with controversy, debate and updates in the field of ocular oncology.

Program highlights:
- Call for Papers Closes: 1 August 2018
- Important Meeting Dates:
  - 15 October 2018
- Program Highlights:
  - Hot Topics - Click on the link to suggest a Hot Topic to include in the 2019 program!

Research Updates:
- ISOO is seeking collaborative ISOO studies to our member for participation! See below for notification of two studies:
  - Zella Correa is making an inventory on the demographic data regarding ocular oncologists. Over the years, ocular oncology and pathology come together to increase scientific exchange and visibility of what we do. Now it is time to find out our global reach. Please complete a survey about your demographic data. Everyone's information will be kept confidential. If you have not received a questionnaire, please send an e-mail to zmcorrea1@jhmi.edu.
  - Jesse Berry and her group just published the first collaborative study from the ISOO on brachytherapy practice patterns in women. Trends in radiation practices for female oncologists in North America, in Ocul Oncol Pathology, DOI: 10.1159/000489219, https://www.karger.com/Article/Abstract/489219

Other Meetings:
The Champalimaud Foundation in Lisbon, Portugal and ARVO are organizing an Ocular Oncogenesis and Oncology Conference, which will be held at the Foundation's Centre, The summer is in full swing and before you know it we will be reuniting in Marina del Rey California for another memorable time.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION:
During the World Ophthalmology Congress, which will be held at the Foundation's Centre in Lisbon, Portugal, the ISOO organized a session on Taking Care of Ocular Surface Malignances. It was a delight to see many of you at the WOC this year and hearing about any of these activities, please mail contact@isoo.org.

Greetings!
Marlene Jager and the 2017-2019 ISOO Executive Committee

Welcome!

Dear Colleagues:

The summer is in full swing and before you know it we will be reuniting in Marina del Rey California for another memorable time.

Registration is now open
Visit the conference website for further details: http://www.isoo2019.com/registration

Important Meeting Dates:
- Call for Papers Opens: 1 August 2018
- Call for Papers Closes: 15 October 2018

Program Highlights:
- Hot Topics - Click on the link to suggest a Hot Topic to include in the 2019 program!

Research Updates:
- ISOO is seeking collaborative ISOO studies to our member for participation! See below for notification of two studies:
  - Zella Correa is making an inventory on the demographic data regarding ocular oncologists. Over the years, ocular oncology and pathology come together to increase scientific exchange and visibility of what we do. Now it is time to find out our global reach. Please complete a survey about your demographic data. Everyone's information will be kept confidential. If you have not received a questionnaire, please send an e-mail to zmcorrea1@jhmi.edu.
  - Jesse Berry and her group just published the first collaborative study from the ISOO on brachytherapy practice patterns in women. Trends in radiation practices for female oncologists in North America, in Ocul Oncol Pathology, DOI: 10.1159/000489219, https://www.karger.com/Article/Abstract/489219

Other Meetings:
The Champalimaud Foundation in Lisbon, Portugal and ARVO are organizing an Ocular Oncogenesis and Oncology Conference, which will be held at the Foundation's Centre, The summer is in full swing and before you know it we will be reuniting in Marina del Rey California for another memorable time.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION:
During the World Ophthalmology Congress, Dr. Sarah Coupland from Liverpool, UK, received one of the highest honors of the International Council of Ophthalmology, the ICO Ophthalmic Pathology Award.

During the American Academy, the 2018 International Blindness Prevention Award will be given to Professor Jacob Koby (Israel) for his work on developing subspecialty fellowship guidelines. It was a delight to see many of you at the WOC this year and hearing about any of these activities, please mail contact@isoo.org.

Greetings!
Marlene Jager and the 2017-2019 ISOO Executive Committee